DIRECTOR STATEMENT

Rushmore Business School has played a major role in providing continuing education and training in the field of management studies to ambitious individuals seeking quality tertiary education in Mauritius.

In 2007, the Business school obtained accreditation from the British accreditation council and is now a global player providing quality tertiary education to students from all over the world. Graduates from the Business School occupy middle to top management positions in companies and government departments in various sectors of the economy worldwide. In our quest for excellence, we have formed partnerships with a number of European, including British Universities to bring our students a range of world class programmes. Through our academic and professional courses, we seek to enable school leavers, professionals and managers from both the public and private sectors to upgrade and specialise themselves in specific areas of Business, Hospitality and Tourism, Engineering and Information and Communication Technologies.

Our collaboration with Universities in the United Kingdom has enabled us to combine and complement expertise in various areas of business and allowed us to maintain the high quality and standards of our programmes. The business School has come a long way in building its international reputation for excellent teaching and research.

We would like to welcome you to the Rushmore Business School and hope you find your learning experience here stimulating and intellectually satisfying.

Very best wishes

Dr Nittin Essoo

MBA (Miami), PHD (Warwick).

Director of Rushmore Business School.
